Mission Control has been rewarding active players with a total prize pool of 10,000 TLM each week for quite some time now. While we are still busy developing the new UI, we have already completed some structural changes. We believe that this is something you might like to learn about.

Our project is about sustainability and growth. We want to be in a position to expand Mission Control to provide not only more features and services, but also increase the rewards for our players as we grow.

While we expand the metaverse, build features and services to make your Alien World lives easier and more exciting, Mission Control expects that this will open up the possibility for additional revenue streams. In the future a higher regular income for Mission Control will lead to increased weekly rewards. You will see the rewards exceed 10,000 TLM for the first time in the beginning of August.

Until then happy mining and see you in the Metaverse!
